VOLUME XXVI. NUMBER 10.

IRONTON, MO.
THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1892.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The fall of the leaf has begun.
Have you been up early enough yet to see the frost?

The railroad makes cheap rates for the fall festivities.

Church services in the Academy of music Sunday were well attended.

A new time card went into effect Sunday; no changes except as to freight trains.

The rain of last week enabled many of the farmers to break their wheat ground.

The Merry-go-round departed Saturday for Graniteville and the small boy mourns.

The mornings and evenings of last week were cold enough to require fire for comfort.

Division Superintendent Hardy went down the road last Wednesday on a tour of inspection.

The Misses Beard entertained a number of little friends at a party last Wednesday afternoon.

County Court is in session this week, with a full triumvirate to pass upon the business of the people.

Wonders never cease. The weather bureau predicted a cold wave for Sunday night, and—it came on time!

Remember the I. O. O. F. barbecue and picnic at Annapolis, Saturday, 17th; a free dinner to all who attend.

How about having a monster Democratic demonstration long about the latter part of this month or first of next?

Mr. Hotson is now domiciled in the Buckman property and Mrs. Wingate will remove down town some day this week.

When Begley and Bonanza bet the "cigars for the crowd," the crowd waits a long day for the settlement of who pays.

"Chuckles" at the Academy of Music last Thursday night was fairly attended and proved a very enjoyable entertainment.

The REGISTER is issued a little ahead of time this week in order that the "talent" may attend the congressional convention at Piedmont.

Bro. Hotson says the Grand Central will be no small potatoes when fitted out for the use of the public. It contains fourteen good rooms.

The new kindell building is now under way, with the promise of early completion. It will, when finished, be a credit to the town and the owner.

An oyster supper will be given in the near future—the proceeds to be donated to the fund for building an I. O. O. F. Widows' and Orphans' Home.

The steam thrasher of Frank Johnson is now in the immediate vicinity and spent Monday on the farm of Mr. Thos. Johnson, who had a good crop of wheat.

Mr. D. F. Reese has lately purchased the Bakewell property in the western limits of the city from Rev. L. C. Wernert. The purchase price was $2,100.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lewis, Sabula, Tuesday, August 30th, 1892, a 11-lb. girl. Mother and child are doing finely, and the father proud and happy.

The Ore & Steel Company have an engine at work on the south side of Pilot Knob pumping water from the shaft around to the washers on the north side.

Let the party "with a jag on" be heedful of the offset on the Register sidewalk. It isn't as deep as a well, but it's enough to joggle the insides of the unwary.

The public schools opened Monday morning with an enrollment of 130 pupils. With the three competent teachers employed the year promises to be a very successful one.

Some of the boys got into a little difficulty out at the quarry last Thursday evening, and a knock-down resulted. Next day they walked up, paid their fines, and the matter ended.

The Oliver house is fully opened to the public. Newly furnished from top to bottom, and the building made new on the inside, it is all that can be desired by a discriminating public.

Mr. F. M. Anderson, who will have charge of the Arcadia school the ensuing year, is now domiciled in the Shapleigh home on Mountain Side, and will occupy it during the school year.

The fight between Sullivan and Corbett at New Orleans Wednesday night creates considerable interest among "boys"; but little money is being placed on the result, however.

With one contingent of citizens at the Graniteville Labor-Day Picnic, and another gone to the Congressional Convention at Piedmont, the town to-day (Monday) is remarkably quiet and well behaved.

Among the other improvements Mr. Socrates Newman contemplates making on his summer place in the near future is a large fish pond and lake. He expects to have a sufficient body of water for rowing and boating.

The gun club has a shooting tournament every Wednesday afternoon in Fletcher's field south of town. Some of the members are getting in fine practice and expect to play the birds as soon as the law is out.

Last Friday night, under the auspices of the M. A. D. Club, Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Gardner, gave a supplementary entertainment to the citizens of the Valley. "Marriage a Failure," and character sketches, furnished as neat and entertaining a programme as one could wish to see and hear.

A petition will be presented to the county court this week, asking for the building of a bridge across Knob creek, north of the depot at that town. It is doubtful whether the prayer of the petitioners will be granted.

It is learned that the Schneider Granite Company has just secured another big contract. This, with the granite required for the city hall, will keep a large force of men employed in that quarry for some time to come.

We publish this week the Iron County Republican ticket, and will continue to give it place until after the November election. As we have before remarked, the ticket is made up of good men; but, boys, you're all wrong, politically.

Last Saturday morning the stone-mason of whom we wrote last week, called in and announced his return from the World's Fair. He then went to work, and in consequence the REGISTER's sidewalk is in much better condition.

The labor day picnic at Graniteville Monday was an immense success and attracted big attendance from all the adjacent communities. The managers are to be congratulated on the happy result of their efforts. Particulars next week.

C. W. Harden, of De Soto, requests us to state that the Prohibitionists of the Thirtieth Congressional District will meet in convention at M. P. Hall, De Soto, Mo., Sept. 19th 7:30 p. m., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress.

The I. O. O. F. barbecue and picnic at Annapolis, September 17th, is going to be a grand success. The managers are leaving nothing undone that will add to the comfort and convenience of all who attend. Remember the day and be present.

Fred Kindel is erecting a store house on the vacant lot between his shop and the building occupied by Giovanni & Kieckas as an undertaking establishment. It will be finished as quickly as possible, and when completed, occupied by Mrs. J. Newman.

Our friend, Sanford Andrews, of the pusher is now on the "extra list" as Passenger Conductor. Mr. Andrews is one of the cleverest, most accommodating and faithful men that ever took charge of a train on this road and we are glad to hear of his preferment.

List of unclaimed letters remaining in the post-office at Pilot Knob, Mo., Aug. 31, 1892:

Abbott A F Goodenough Mary
Evans George Thornhill Mary A

If not called for within 30 days they will be sent to the dead letter office.
P. H. Jaquith, P. M.

The repairs in the Presbyterian church were not completed as soon as contemplated, and services had to be held in the Academy of Music again last Sunday. The repairing is all that remains to be done in the church now, however, and it is thought this will all be finished by next Sunday sure.

Those of our people who attended the Farmington fair last week did not come back home with any glowing pictures of the entertainment offered. On the contrary all testified that it was a very tame affair indeed, and the attendance remarkably slim. It is a fact to be much regretted that the day of the country fair has past.

The Hunt maison de joie in the north end of town had a jubilee Sunday night, according to Fielding Winn, who at ten o'clock came down and asked Sheriff Fisher to inform him that "they were having a—ll up at Hunt's." The sheriff wisely concluded to let them have it out on their own terms, and so retired to rest again.

Hon. W. R. Edgar's speech in Bonne Terre last Friday evening, served to make known the fact to the people of this town, that the gentleman is an eloquent, enlightened and comprehensive speaker. Mr. Edgar can certainly rest assured that his speech to our citizens has not injured in the least his future political outlook.—Bonne Terre Democrat.

For the information of the public and those having charge of our schools, we are requested to say, that under the new school book law, the time for the exchange of books expired September 1st, 1892. Geographies can no longer be exchanged, but by contract of the publishers, Readers can be exchanged until the 22d, and Grammars until the 30th of this month.

The REGISTER this week furnishes its readers a supplement from the full text of Hon. W. J. Stone's speech at St. Louis, delivered on the opening of the State campaign, August 25th. It is an able and instructive document, replete with facts and figures that clearly portray the fallacies of the Republican press and orators. Read it and read it carefully; then hand to your neighbor for the good it may do him.

Orders came to Arcadia last Thursday to "lay off" one of the pusher crews; that is to run one of the engines but twelve hours each day. The men let out were engineer Bethel, fireman Hadison, and conductor Evans. This order was issued owing to light business, and in the endeavor to reduce expenses. It is not thought, however, that a long time will elapse before the crew is regularly at work again.

The ever genial and pleasant Mr. A. L. Jaquith, of Vicksburg, Mississippi, arrived in the Valley last week accompanied by his daughter, Miss Alma, who has resumed her studies at the Ursuline Convent here. Mr. Jaquith then left for St. Mary's, Kansas, where his son will enter school. Mr. J. informs us that the low price of cotton has materially interfered with the commercial prosperity of the south this year.

DIED—At Ironton, Mo., Thursday, Sept. 1, 1892, at 11:50 a. m. PARENT, infant daughter of Thos. and Sarah Kent, aged 2 years and 21 days. The funeral took place Friday afternoon, and was largely attended. The sympathies of the community are extended to the bereaved parents, who desire us to return their thanks to the many kind neighbors and friends who fully tendered their kindly offices and assistance.

W. H. Byers, the buyer for the Bonanza Merchandise Company, has bought the entire output of a prominent shoe manufacturer in St. Louis—the best lot of men's coarse and fine wear ever brought to Ironton, and will be sold at less than manufacturer's cost. Also, $7,000 worth of fine and medium clothing for children, boys and men, all made for this fall and winter trade. You never will get such prices again.

Steelville Democrat: "A serious and very singular stabbing affray occurred on brush creek, in which Mr. Paddy McWilliams was severely, if not dangerously, stabbed by his wife. It seems that Mr. McWilliams went to the pasture to catch his horses and when he returned, Mrs. M. wanted to know why he was gone so long. Mr. McWilliams replied that the horses were more difficult to catch than usual. Without any further words or provocation, she attacked him with a pair of scissors, plunging both points into his back near the waistband of his pants. Mr. William Cooper ran to his assistance, and the infuriated woman left the scissors sticking in the wound which were with little difficulty withdrawn by Mr. Cooper. Mr. McWilliams is likely to recover, and the woman has gone to live with her parents."

The following taken from the Elm City (Kan.) Enterprise will be of interest to REGISTER readers: "Dr. G. Q. Berryman and daughter Channie arrived in this city the fore part of the week from Dodge City, Kansas, where they and Mrs. Berryman have been living for the past month or two. Mrs. Berryman will perhaps visit her many friends here some time this fall. She has been having a serious sickness recently, but now, we are glad to learn, is improving. The Doctor and Mrs. Berryman have been living at Las Vegas, New Mexico, and Tucson, Arizona, since they left here a year ago, and the climate has been very beneficial to them, the Doctor, in particular looking much better than when he left. He informs us that they will probably winter at El Paso or San Antonio. We sincerely hope that they may be fully restored to health by the climate of Texas, and again be able to take up their residence in Elk City."

Last Thursday evening, about eight o'clock, Mace Simpson and his son George, who live close to the railroad in the east end of town, heard a cry for assistance. It came from Willis Cole who had found an ox with his foot fast in the rails by the cattle-guard. The Simpsons went to Cole's help, but all three could not release the animal. As it was time for the Accommodation, which runs hind end foremost from Pilot Knob to Arcadia, the younger Simpson ran up the track and signaled the approaching train which was stopped just in time to avoid a wreck. With the assistance of the train men, Mr. Ox was restored to liberty and the use of all his feet, and the Arcadia proceeded in safety on its way. We beg to suggest to the railroad officials that they present to Willis Cole, Mace and George Simpson—all colored—each, a round trip ticket to the St. Louis Fair—not for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

Annapolis Items.

Ed. Register—E. P. Benson repaired his mill dam the past week.
Mrs. D. A. Johnson gave an ice-cream supper and social party to a number of Annapolis young ladies one day last week. A nice time is reported.

D. A. Johnson & Co. will soon have their building ready for their incubators. Annapolis will soon be turning out young chicks at a high rate of speed.
Misses Fannie and Daisy Sawyer went to Caldonia last Wednesday, where they will attend school. Miss Mathina Benson will also attend school there instead of Fulton, as reported last week.

"It is easier for an elephant to go through the eye of a needle," is the way one of Annapolis citizens put it. How is that for quoting Scripture?

Mrs. Bohike swore out a warrant for her husband and J. S. Jordan was sent for, but, by his advice and the good counsel of friends, a truce was patched up and Mr. Bohike was not prosecuted.
Dick Night was arrested for disturbing the peace, but, as all the witnesses were about half-seasick, Esq. Hampton continued the case until the tenth of this month.

F. L. Cleverger, night operator at Annapolis, has spent a Hot Springs, Ark., where, 'tis said, he will be married and return here to make his home. Mr. Cleverger is a nice young man and we wish him all manner of good luck and happiness.

The ladies of Anna Rebekah degree Lodge, No. 104, sold ice cream and cake at the old drug store building, Friday night. We did not learn the amount, but presume a nice little sum was realized.

Harry Taylor is working in Mr. Cleverger's place. Mr. Taylor has worked here before, and therefore does not have to get acquainted.
Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Keathly are in town.

A. sister of Mrs. Towl is visiting her. Mr. "X" gets wery very for a man who is used to labor. It is so much easier to speak of an article as a "tissue of absurdities," than to answer its arguments. But we will be a little more explicit and not so xpressive this time, and hope that Mr. "X" will condescend to notice our rambling and disconnected statements. The lie spoken of in our former article is, "Protection protects labor." This is the lie we referred to in our last article, and to say it was repeated a million times during the campaign of '88 would be putting it mild. How often did you repeat it Mr. "X"? That this lie helped elect Mr. Harrison, no one can deny, for there are so many who never look below the surface of a proposition.

If Cleveland had been in the White House, the McKinley bill could never have become a law; hence we say if it had not have been for this promise of sustaining the wages of labor, Mr. Carnegie could not be receiving the immense profits on his wares by laying the people under tribute. Proposition No. 2: As the people, or a sufficient number of them, were influenced by the promise of high wages to vote for Harrison, and thus make the McKinley law possible, therefore they are entitled to those wages, because the people pay sufficient tribute to Mr. Carnegie to enable him to pay those wages. Is this exact, xpressive and explicit enough for your xcellency? The simile about the burglar is the property of Mr. "X." I only placed it where it more properly belonged. We have not decided Mr. Harrison, McKinley & Company. The swashbucklers who make it a business to promise all kinds of blessings to the working men before an election, and are the first to lose sympathy in case of trouble, these are the fellows I am after, Mr. "X". They are a living and walking falsehood. And if the shoe fits you Mr. "X", we have no apology to make. In your article which first attracted our attention you said the Harrison campaign was a victory through out the country. Is that local news? But since you are anxious to draw off for fear of boring the good readers of the REGISTER I leave the subject with you with the suggestion that you read a little less of Goldsmith, and the daily papers, and a little more of Henry George's works on political economy. Yours affectionately, MURPHY, Sept. 5, 1892.

The only way to cure fever and ague is to neutralize the poisons which cause the disease or to expel them from the system. Ayer's Ague Cure operates in both ways. It is a warranted specific for all forms of malarial disorders, and never fails to cure. Try it.

Sabula Clippings.

Ed. Register—Not seeing anything from this place for some time I will send you in a few items.

Our school commences here Monday under the management of Miss Elsie Bollinger.

We have no regular preaching at this place now as our pastor, Rev. Mills, has been very sick and is not expected to get well for awhile, but we are glad to learn his health is now improving and hope he may soon be able to preach for us again as we would very much regret losing such a good man. He is well liked by all who know him.

Mrs. Beck of Bismarck is visiting her sister, Mrs. Jerry Russell, of this place.

Dr. Strong was called here last night to see Wm. Francis's child.

Some of the young folks from this place attended church on Carver today; they have been holding a week's meeting up there with some good results.

C. Collins has sold his saw mill to Cap't Irvin & sons of Leosterville. They will still run it where it is now located.

W. J. Coleman is hauling lumber and shipping from this place. His mill is on Mill creek about 6 miles from here.

The work engine 377 that was laid off from here the 27th of July is still expected to complete its work as the boarding cars are still here. Fireman Brady is here now to see his wife who has been boarding at C. Collins's since their engine left.

James Brierton has the night office at this place now.

James Hunt of Caldonia was down here the day of the show; guess he came to take in the show as he went back that night.

David Dundon, Fencing Foreman, is back at Sabula at work again after being gone about ten days. There must be some attraction at Sabula for David as he does not stay away long when he goes.

W. E. Tanney is now Section Foreman at this place taking the place of Mr. Welch who was killed by the train at this place on the 26th of July.

A. E. Blanton of Arcadia made a flying trip down here to-day.
Sept. 5, 1892. SABULA.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is one of the few remedies which are recommended by every school of medicine. Its strength, purity, and efficacy are too well established to admit of doubt as to its superiority over all other blood-purifiers whatever. Ayer's Sarsaparilla leads all.

In the Circuit Court of Iron county, Missouri, in vacation Aug. 30, 1892.
W. D. Russell and T. C. Boag, vs.

[Action to perfect title by Statute of limitation.]

Now at this day comes the plaintiffs by attorneys and file their petition and affidavit, setting forth among other things, that they verily believe there are other persons interested in the within described real estate, as owners, part owners, or otherwise, whose names they cannot insert herein, because they are unknown to them, and the nature and extent of whose interest are unknown to them and they have no knowledge of the same; and that they derived their interest as heirs of the above named Henry S.
